WESTERN MERGER MILL NOW READY GRACEY MINE TO HAVE 10 STAMP MILL

The Western Merger new stamp mill is being given its final tests this week and is due to start operations next Sunday, states Superintendent H. B. Skewes to The Nugget this morning. The mahinery is all set, the concrete floors poured and the wiring o fthe big electric motors is being completed.

Five stopes have already been opened on the 400 level, both east and west of the shaft and a large block of ground is ready for the chutes and the mill. Several hundred tons o good milling rock taken during sinking and drifting operations have been accumullated on the dump and will be fed through. There is no danger of short water supply as the last storms left overflowing tanks behind on the hill above. A 30,000 gallon storage tank is being ereted at the mill.

Another stamp mill is scheduled for operation in the Nevada City district in the near future. The Gracey mine has been making such a favorable showing in the drifting operations that a 10 stamp mill has been purchased from the Ben Hur Divide property south of Grass Valley and will be installed in its new location at once.

A mill site is being cleared below the hoist at the present time and the work of erecting the building to house the mill will be rushed to completion. The Ben Hur mill is complete and was used but little after its installation at the Alaska mine, being in excellent condition.

Drifting operations are continuing in fine ore at the Gracey and this property gives promise of becoming one of the district's good producers in the near future. R. N. McCormack is manager.

ROUGH AND READY WILL SEE MINING ACTIVITY

Work is to be commenced in the crosscut tunnel at the Black Bear mine in the Rough and Ready District in the next few days, driving in 700 feet further to cut the Black Bear vein. The property is fully equipped with a ten stamp mill, air compressor and power drills.

The property is being developed by the Reorganized Rand Mines Company of which H. L. Ostrander is the president.

MINE OWNERS PROTEST RAILROAD LAND PATENTS

Downieville, April 7, (Special to The Nugget)—Among the local mine owners who were forced to file protests against the Southern Pacific Company's recent application for patents in this vicinity are John T. Mason, owner of the Cuba Placer Mine; A. S. Wilson, Lillian and Hardscrabble Mines; the Hilda Mining Co.; Bradley-Haley Mining Company, operating the Pride Hydraulic Mine at Sierra City; John Lee, owner of the Monarch Mine; F. M. Doak, Young America Mine; Lincoln Placers, Inc., of Los Angeles.

The fact that all of the land asked for lies in the great mineral belt west of the Yuba Pass, affects every mine owner in the district, and beside the individual protests of owners directly affected by the application, a general protest has been filed by mine owners and citizens of Downieville and Sierra City.

NORTH STAR PRODUCES NEARLY ONE MILLION

Production of the gold at the North Star properties the past year totalled $881,319. Due to a large development program the property shows an operating loss for the year but the present outlook with the fine ore shoot being developed on the 8600 level, it is probable that the present year's operations will make a good showing this year.

Over $50,000 was lost in the surrender of the option of the Plumbago property last June which accounts for approximately half the deficit for the year.

The report shows that the bulk of the production was from the territory between the 6900 and 8600 levels on the X Vein and between the 6600 and 6900 on the No. 2. A total of 129,814 tons of rock was mined, of which 21,814 was discarded as waste. The average yield was $8.11 per ton, with $6.95 cost for operating and $1.45 per ton for development. Recovery by amalgamation was 70.16 per cent, and by cyanidation, 29.84 per cent.

From 1884 to December, 1927, the total production is given as $29,805,807 with dividends paid of $5,762,040. The operating and development cost during that time is given as $22,603,711, a considerable portion of which was wages.

NEVADA CITY LIONS GET GRASS VALLEY A START

Nevada City Lions went over to Grass Valley Tuesday in nearly full strength to do the preliminary work for organizing a Club in that city. Sheriff George R. Carter was in charge of the arrangements. The dinner was held at the Bret Harte and was largely attended.

President R. L. P. Bigelow presided and when the evening's ceremonies were over, around $40 had been collected in the kitty to start the new club terasury. International Vice President Ray L. Riley, State Controller was present as was Deputy Governor Byrl Babcock of Sacramento and a large delegation from the Auburn Club. The evening passed quickly and at its close the Grass Valley signers of the application for a Club chose Fred M. Miller as temporary chairman and Charles F. Law as temporary secretary. Next Thursday noon has been set as the first luncheon meeting.

Mrs. Charles Elliott, pianist for the Nevada City Club favored with several fine solos as did Lou Chesbro of Auburn. Dick Bigelow and Dave Gordon led the singing.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sommers of Seabright were Easter guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jones.

Mis Edna Smith has returned to Pittsburg after spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Smith.

Mrs. Emma Cook, nee Young, has been up from Oakland to spend the past week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Young, for the Easter vacation.

HYDRAULIC MINING WILL START ON CHINA GRAVEL

DOWNIEVILLE, April 6, (Special to The Nugget)—That hydraulicking will be resumed on the old China ground near the mouth of Jim Crow canyon, about three miles east of Downieville, is indicated by work just begun for the application for water.

E. H. Hurlburt of Los Angeles, the owner of the ground, plans to bring water from Van Joan creek, a distance of about a mile, to wash the gravel. This ground has been idle for many years. The last work was done on it by Chinese, and a falling bank, which buried several of the miners, stopped the work. It is understood here that the bodies of the unfortunate Chinamen were never removed from the cave, and the superstitious Chinese immediately abandoned the ground. The survey for the water application was started Saturday.

On arrival they were registered at the National Hotel and then spent the afternoon about town. Dinner was served at the Methodist church at 5:30 by the Nevada City groups. At 7:30 the ceremonial was staged with the Oakland girls acting as torch bearers and the Nevada City girls as the novitiates. The lodge hall was crowded to witness the exemplification. A short talk was made by Mrs. Searls in which she expressed the pleasure of the visitors at coming to Nevada City and that there would be hundreds of the members coming up this summer to stay at Camp Celio on the shore of Loke Vera.

BOND ISSUE NOW SOUGHT COVER A HUGE DEFICIT

The directors of the Nevada Irrigation are preparing to ask or more bond money in the near future from the farmers, this time in the amount of $2,592,000. It will first be necessary to secure the consent of the Bond Certification Commission to the issuance of more bonds and this has not yet been secured, it is understood, as the Commission has asked for a financial set-up of how the additional issue will produce revenue sufficient to retire the bonds and interest, and as to how the people stand on the proposition.

With the District reported to be nearly thre hundred thousand dollars over-drawn and the notorious PED contract still nominally in force the horn of the dilemma chosen by the directors as being the most painless method as against a land tax at the present time, may have to be further explained before the people vote to dump more money into the capacious hopper.

The present plan being followed is to secure enough signatures to avoid the necessity of a two thirds bond election which admittedly would not pass. It is rumored that another recall election is in the offing since the deficit became known and is at present being considered by a number of intersted land owners who are dissatisfied with the present financial crisis.

The bill rendered by the District to the Pacific Gas for water furnished was in the amount of $136,000 which is but half the deficit reported As to whether the payment for the $33,500 office building in Grass Valley is to come out of the new bond issue is not mentioned.

It is admitted that a financial crisis is impending at the present time.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE OLD FASHIONED DANCE

The annual Chamber of Commerce Old Fashioned Dance which will be held this year on Saturday evening, May 5th, gives promise of being one of the most successful ever staged by the organization. The various committees have been appointed and show excellent selection by President Bennetts. If you have any old fashioned clothes around, get them out and have them ready to wear that night.

MARRIOTT HOME CAUGHT FIRE THURSDAY MORN

Fire breaking shortly after midnight Wednesday brought the fire department to the Joe Marriott home on Piety Hill and the flames which had gained considerable headway in the attic were held to the roof entirely and main damage to the downstairs was by water leakage which was slight, due to the use of a small hose coupled to the large fire hose. The fire presumably started from the brick chimney although this point was not settled by Fire Chief Coughlin. Mrs. Marriott and son were below at the time and the head of the house was alone in the house. The furniture was quickly removed to a place of safety in the yard. Truck Drive Hallett was quickly on the scene.

One of the very pleasureable features at the Easter service last evening was the playing on the large harp by Mrs. Grace Raymond. Solos were sung by Mrs. Ruth Rector and Mrs. Talbot.

Miss Mary Rossen has returned to Oakland after spending her vacation with her mother, Mrs. Mary Rossen.

A fair sized gold nugget was piked up at the Scott Flat reservoir site by one of the workmen while excavating the ground. It happened to be on mineral ground held by the Excelsior interests.

The Boy Scouts enjoyed a treasure hunt after their meting on Wednesday night that afforded a great deal of entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Ruiter and Mrs. J. N. Ivey of Sacramento were weekend guests of Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Ivey. Mrs. Ruiter is a sister of Dr. Ivey.

CITY ELECTION RETURNS GIVEN AT THIS OFFICE

The Nugget will bulletin the returns in its windows as soon as the results are known and anyone interested may telephone No. 36 at any time during the evening and secure the results from this office.

The large number of candidates in the race have made the outcome a hard one to predict and there has not been much wagering on the out come. The swimming pool issue is lurking in the background of the balloting.

FORMER NEVADA CITIANS HAVE NARROW ESCAPE

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. N. Ott, Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Yoerfke of Sacramento while motoring up to Nevada City Saturday afternoon met with an automobile accident between Sylvan Corner and Roseville that might easily have ended fatally.

Mr. Yoerke was driving his car on the straight highway when he observed a car driven by a woman coing at him at a great rate out of control. The woman driver had gone off the road and in attempting to get back on, lost control and hit the back end o fthe Yoerke car and it landed in the ditch upside down. Fortunately the occupants were able to clamber out of the wreck thru the windows. Hardly a scratch was received.

Mr. Ott fearing that his folks here would worrk telephoned that he was detained and would arrive later than had ben planned. The party went back to Sacramento, secured another car and made the trip up here without further incident. The woman admitted her lack of driving sense

NEW INDUSTRY MAY START UP IN NEVADA CITY

Nevada City has chances of landing a turpentine refinery this year and a large payroll of 150 to 200 men if sufficient timber acreage can be secured at an early date. The matter will be discussed at length at the regular meeting of the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce tomorrow Tuesday night.

F. C. Ernst, who represents large users of pine distilled products has been interviewing land owners in this vicinity for some days past and reports excellent progress so far. It will take a minimum of a million pine trees signed up to make the project commercially feasible here and two million will make the project a sure go, according to Mr. Ernst. He states that his people have ample financial backing to make a large installation once the necessary timber holdings are secured. Every timber owner should make it a point to be on hand Tuesday evening and hear the plan outlined by Mr. Ernst.

There are several plans of removing the sap from the trees. By one of them the life of the tree is not destroyed and production may be utilized for many years. Where the owner expects to use the trees for wood or mining timber later, the sap can be withdrawn heavily and make the tree available for cutting the following year. The taking of the sap would mean an excellent source of revenue for the owners of the timber used, as the tapping process is a simple one.

Such an institution would mean a great deal to this community as a revenue producer and President R. J. Bennetts has been taking a great deal of interest in the matter the past few days.

Every business man in Nevada City should be on hand Tuesday night to hear Mr. Ernest explain his plan. It is no stock selling scheme.

CAMP FIRE VISITORS IN CAMP CELIO INSPECTION

The Oakland Camp Fire Girls, who put on the beautiful ceremonial at Odd Fellows Hall last Thursday night, spent the fore part of the next day hiking out to their summer camp at Lake Vera which has been christened Camp Celio by virtue of the magnanimous gift of the site by Mr. W. B. Celio and Mr. Gove C. Celio in honor of the late Mrs. Emma Celio. The merry party returned to their homes in Oakland that afternoon.

Construction work is sheduled to begin shortly for the camp, the first group of girls to arrive on June 11th.

William Fippen was a visitor from Rough and Ready Wednesday.

Mrs. W. L. Carter was down from Downieville Thursday for a short visit with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. P. Bigelow left Saturday for Lake county, where they will visit their daughter, Mrs. Harold Anderson and her family. Mr. Bigelow went on to the city from there.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy McNamara of Tyler were business visitors here Friday.

Supervisor M. F. Lusk of Downieville was a Thursday business visitor.

John J. Stitch, who formerly resided at North Bloomfield, passed away at Paso Robles recently.

Charles K. Power, a native of Nevada City, passed away recently at Johannesburg, South Africa. He was at the time of his death mine captain in the Crown mines. He was on his way to the coast following an attack of pneumonia when the end came.

Misses Alice Harry and Ruth Hogan were up from the San Francisco State Teachers College to spend the Easter vacation.

With the departure of The Nugget publisher on Saturday for San Diego to attend sessions of the Grand Chapter and Grand Council, next Monday's issue of the paper will be printed somewhat earlier and advertisers are asked to bear this in mind in the preparation of the copy for that issue.

MORE POWER TO JIM STEWART!

THE MINING INDUSTRY of this section of the state owes James D. Stewart of Auburn, a considerable debt of gratitude for the unselfish, whole hearted fight he has been waging in behalf of the placer mining industry of California for the past few years. It is to be suspected that the industry has rather been leaving it to Jim to bear the financial burden on his shoulders quite largely to acquaint the people of the state with the facts surrounding the resumption of placer mining once more. The opponents of the plan who seem centered largely in the area about Marysville and Yuba City due to the influence of a few vote getting politicians have grouped the extraction of placer gold under the term "hydraulic mining" and a bunch of persistent cusses since the days of '83, it must be admitted, but this doughty mining engineer has not been subdued by their threats to down every attempt to revive placer mining in the areas where the mountain streams drain into the Sacramento and San Joaquin Valleys. He was the leading figure in the fight to see the Cloudman bill through the state legislature last year from the mining operators, and in this connection it must be admitted that the Nevada county placer interests did not give the movement the support it was entitled to. That is past history, however. Mr. Stewart is carrying the struggle of the placer miners to get established again, direct to the people and it is probable that this fall will see the mining measure on the November ballot. On the night of April 19th, the matter will be debated before the Commonwealth Club of San Francisco. In past discussions before the Club, the case of the miners has been ably presented by Ray Elliott, Arthur Jarman, Harold C. Cloudman, J. M. Hill, Walter Bradley and Mr. Stewart. It is unfortunate that Congressman Engelbright cannot be present on the 19th to help present the cause of the miners as he has been a stalwart champion of the cause at all times. It is to be hoped that a strong showing can be made on this occasion as the Commonwealth Club is one of the recognized influential organizations of the state.

NEXT TUESDAY NIGHT there will be a meeting of some consequence in Nevada City. The Chamber of Commerce is having a special Roll Call of its large membership on that occasion and it it is to be hoped that there will be a large outpouring at that time to assist the officers of the organization in planning the year's work and set proper objectives to be striven for. It is discouraging to find but a slim attendance at some of the meetings when matters of considerable importance are discussed. The Chamber needs the earnest cooperation of every member if it is to attain the fullest measure of usefulness in Nevada City. Give it your moral support as well as financial and watch Nevada City Progress!

WITH THE MUNICIPAL election well under way today, it is certain that more interest is being taken by the voters as to who will represent their interests on the board of trustees than has been evident for a number of years. It is a healthy sign and betokens renewed life and prosperity for our fair city as the trustees can exert a considerable influence in the growth and progress of the community. AAW

HYDRAULIC MINING IS TO BE FOR DISCUSSION

(Auburn Journal)

On July 25, 1927, Mr. Walter Stalder, Chairman of the Mineral Resource Section of the Commonwealth Club of California issued a call to interested parties to discuss the rehabilitation of Hydraulic Mining. The first meeting was held in San Francisco on August 10, 1927 at 12:15 p. m. at the Commonwealth Club Headquarters.

This meeting was for the purpose of organizing under Mr. Abbot A. Hanks as sub chairman to discuss the above question.

The Sutter county interests were represented then and later by Mr. Otto Von Geldern, Fred B. Noyes, Arthur Coats, W. S. O'Brien and others.

The Hydraulic Miner's case has been presented by Ray Elliott, Arthur Jarman, H. C. Cloudman and James D. Stewart; ably seconded by J. M. Hill, Walter Bradley and several other good friends of the hydraylic miner's cause.

A. L. Wisker and Fred H. Tibbetts gave their views from the standpoint of irrigationists and the hydraulic miners who heard them will ever be grateful.

Colonel Thos. H. Jackson has given helpful suggestions and advice from the standpoint of the California Debris Commission.

This Section has met each two weeks since August 10, and has threshed out some phase of the situation.

Each side alternating in presenting or refusing the claims put forth by the other. The Section is now ready to report to the Club, and on the evening of April 19th at the St. Francis Hotel, San Francisco, the matter will come up for final debate before the Club and afterward be discussed from the floor. Upon the showing made at that time the Board of Governors will decide what course shall be taken by the Club in the matter.

James D. Stewart, mining engineer of Auburn, and member of the Commonwealth Club and of the Mineral Resouce Section, will present the main argument for the hydraulic miners.

Mr. Stewart has been chosen by the Committee for this duty because he is an active hydraulic miner, lead the fight before the last legislature in which the measure was defeated by one vote, and is thoroughly acquainted with the subject.

The outcome of this debate may be far-reaching, as the Commonwealth Club is a most influential body, having members throughout California.

SIERRA COUNTY MINING ACTIVITIES ARE NOTED

Excellent reports come from the operations of the Sacred Mound property at Sierra City where the new mill was recently put into operation.

The mill at the Standard mine in Sailor Ravine was undermined by the recent high water as were the buildings at the Finney mine in Downieville. Work of driving the tunnel at the latter property has been resumed. The dam in the South Fork at the Gold Point mine went out during the high water.

Otto Strand has found a good quartz showing in his property near Goodyear Bar.

There promises to be quite a bit of activity in the gravel properties in the vicinity of Mountain House this spring where the Kirkpatrick and Buckeye will be operated.

The recent high water damaged the buildings at the Kate Hardy mine below Forest when Oregon creek went on a rampage.

Plans have been made for the early resumption of operations at the Table Mountain mine in the Howland Flat district, by the Nevada company which owns the property. There are 320 acres of virgin ground which adjoins previously rich placer ground The main tunnel has advanced 1050 feet and will be run until it cuts the channel. Samples taken are said to average $2 to $10 per yard.

UNITED SECURITY BANK NOW THE OFFICIAL NAME

With the filing in Sacramento of articles of incorporation and with the approval of the State Superintendent of Banks, Mr. Will C. Wood, the United Security Bank and Trust Company came into existence through the merger of the Humboldt Bank of San Francisco and the Security Bank and Trust Company. Attorney General U. S. Webb ruled that allowing the new name was a matter of within the discretion of the superintendent. In less than one year this great bank has grown from Fifty Million Dollars resources, with fifteen branches, to total resources of more than two hundred millions, with one hundred branches and affiliated banks.

The authorized capital is now twenty million dollars and the directorate has been increased to sixty-two members.

New stock will be issued from the head office, San Francisco, to all stock holders of the Humboldt Bank and those of the Security Bank and Trust Company.

The Humbodlt Bank will hereafter be known as the Humboldt office of the United Security Bank and Trust Company. Its branches in the Mission District and the Mills Building will be identified with the new corporation through suitable name changes. The Executives, officers, and state of both institutions will remain unchanged.

The United Security Bank and Trust Company with its one hundred branches and affiliated banks is the result of mergers and consolidations which have been consummated in the last year bringing together in one group the United Bank and Trust Company, the French-American Bank, Security Bank and Trust Company, Humboldt Bank, and other banks throughout the state, thus placing is in the advantageous position of being able to serve its clients through its own affiliations from one end of the state to the other. The auxiliary company of the bank, the French-American Corporation, is owned share for share by the stockholders of the United Security Bank and Trust Company, and represents an additional capital investment of approximately fifteen millions of dollars.

Telephone conversation has been successfully carried on between New York and Brussels, the captal of Belgium.

TELLURIDE DISCOVERY IS ECONOMICAL IMPORTANT

According to a well known Mojave prospector, the discovery of a large orebody at the Gold Telluride group at Fremont Peak as reported in the Mojave Record, is of great economic importance.

The telluride ore of Cripple Creek and Kalgoorie, Australia has produced for years a considerable amount of the worlds' gold. The ore is of gieneous origin and occurs by replacement in the country rock of deep fissure. The pay shoots often extend hundreds of feet in length to great depth.

The Mojave desert, noted for its ore deposits, offers a new field to mining men in the exploration of its lodes for gold tellurides, unknown on the Mojave until the discovery of this valuable mineral at Fremont Peak. The discovery is entirely due to the roasting of the unaltered rock. The mineral is silver white, finely divided, saturating the ore thoroly and practically impossible to recognize until roasted. Samples of the ore should be carred for use in the field.

Of the telluride minerals the Fremont Peak ore may be classed as petzite. Its luster is metallic; color, iron gray; fracture, uneven; tenacity, sectile to brittle; hardness, 2.5 to 3.0; gravity, 8.9 to 9.4. It crystallizes in the regular system of cubes or in distorted forms, but is sometimes massive or granular.

Petzite occurs in Translvania, in Colorado and California.

BUENA VISTA MINE IS DISCOVERED BY WOMAN

Buena Vista mine, started in '49 abandoned 50 years ago and now reopened at Mariposa, is closed. Part way in, a heavy oak door, well secured with a padlock, keeps out the high graders. Mack Jones and Charles Linnell old time prospectors who made the strike, keep pretty well on guard.

Good reasons for these precautions exist. Behind the heavy door is ore that is worth several thousand dollars a ton, roughly expressed. Assays show $460 per ton but that was before the payshoot was struck. Miners of long experience stay the stuff in the shoot is worth from $2000 to $3000 a ton.

And with this great strike and other mines showing new colors, Maripso still shows its peace and quiet. There is also a fever of expectancy among its 400 inhabitants. They believe the place is on the verge of a rush. So they wait around and inspect the hills in odd moments in search of golden treasure trove.

Miss Belle McCord Roberts who onws the Buena Vista, has gone to Los Angeles to make arrangements to install improved mining machinery near the old shaft. She bought the mine for around $1500 and employed Linnell and Jones to look it over for her. They uncovered the rich vein.

There are many mines in the immediate vicinity. The Clearinghouse, for instance, has been worked for years and now at a depth of 1200 feet, is paying dividends to its stockholders. Another is the Feliciana, reopened two years ago, after 60 years of inactivity. It is reported yielding 24 ounces of amalgam per day and recently cut into a two foot vein assaying $250 a ton according to Jack Graham of San Jose, owner of the King Solomon mine in that district. The surface has just been scratched in and around Mariposa.

When Mariposa was first a mining camp, it was miles from civilization. No road or railroad ran near it. Fuel was scarce. The '49ers panned what they could by hand. Some of them sank a shaft here and there but soon grew discouraged. There was no way to get the ore out. No power for boilers except by wood that had to be snaked up one mountain and down another. So the Mariposa camp joined the near-ghost camp class.

VAST CHROME DEPOSITS IN NEED OF PROTECTION

In making a study of minerals of especial interest to Superior California, R. L. Kimmel manager of the department of mines and mining of the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce, finds that but for foreign competition, under British control, California could build a great industry upon the mining of this metallic mineral.

Kimmel says:

"If certain powers in Washington an be moved to the necessity and benefit of placing a tariff on the chromite ore or mineral chrome to help the miner of California instead of on the manufactured product of chrome to help the eastern manufacturer, who doesn't need the protection, some 400 owners of chrom-its mines in California can again produce the mineral at a profit and revive an industry in California which was very profitable during the war.

War Great Industry

In the one year of 1918, when prices rose to $49.35 a ton, due to the demands of war and the lack of supplies from abroad, California shipped 73 955 tons of chromite, valued at $3,649,497.

Then the bottom dropped out of the market and due to the failure of the government to protect this industry, which rose to the assistance o fthe home consumer when the war stopped imports, the foreign chromite again flooded the market until now there is practically none mined in the United States.

Controlled by England

Most of the chromite now comes from Rhodesia, New Caledonia, India and Cuba and is controlled by England. Only 108 tons were produced in this country in 1926.

There are large deposits in all these countries yet to be opened and there seems no immediate danger of depletion. At the same time there is estimated to be 1,250,000 tons in reserve in the United States deposits, of which there are 2 000 unknown. This will supply us for eight years at the present rate of consumption, if none is imported. This is, however, of lower grade than the foreign deposits and runs about 41 percent.

Plenty in California

In California, according to C. A. Logan of the state mining bureau, chromite is found in twenty-four counties and shipments were made from twenty-two in 1917. The deposits are usually in lens or kidney formation in serpentine, and easily mined.

The mineral is blackinsh brown in color with a brown streak and submetallic luster. It is easily detected and the state was well prospected during the boom days.

Has Many Uses

The largest use for chrome has been for refractory bricks in the open hearth steel furnaces, which use about two and a half pounds of chromite for every ton of steel made. Because of its properties of extreme hardness, resistence to acids and toughness, chrome is being used more and more for the making of chrome steel alloy. It is a constituent for rustless steel stainless steel, and other special alloys. It is electroplated on steel and takes a polish so that it can replace nickel as a plate.

The automobile industry now uses large quantities of chrome, especially in bearings, rods and other points where a good wearing surface is desired.

Another use is a chemical for making dyes, pigments and in tanning and bleaching. About 27 per cent of the consumption is for these purposes.

SUGARMAN POCKET MINE IS NOW BEING REOPENED

The old Sugarman mine near Sonora, which has a past production record of $750,000 from its rich pockets, is to be reopened after some years of idleness ,according to the Sonora Union-Democrat. C. R. Watson, who formerly operated the property will act as superintendent for R. H. Nelson, H. G. Bleckner and H. F. Lucas of Los Angeles, who have taken over the property.

People recall seeing Watson drag a bag across the sidewalk into the entrance of the Sonora bank, containing 174 pounds of gold bars worth nearly $40,000, the result of a single pocket. A large crowd gather to watch "Miner" Watson "bring home the bacon."

The untouched section of the mine lies 800 feet south of the old workings and limited incursions into the virgin ground are said to reveal good prospects of further richness.

LONG BEACH EXPOSITION JULY 27 TO AUGUST 13

California this summer expects to entertain the greatest influx of visitors in its history with the Pacific Southwest Exposition at Long Beach, July 27 to August 13, the mecca for tourists and travelers from all parts of the United States, Canada, Mexico and other foreign lands.

The Pacific Southwest Exposition is the largest enterprise of its kind attempted in California since the world-famed Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco and the San Diego exposition, both held in 1915.

The event is to be staged in commemoration of the landing of the Spanish pardes, depicting the cultural and commercial progress of the entire Pacific Southwest and its evolution from a colorful romantic Spanish domain to a bustling world mart.

Having assumed international aspects with pledges of participation already received from Belgium, Mexico, Guatamala, Argentina, Cuba, Panama, Germany, The Netherlands and Sweden, its success is believed assured. Many other nations bordering the Pacific and Atlantic have manifested interest in the event with promise that possibly a score of foreign lands will participate with exhibits of commercial products rare antiquities and cultural art characteristic of their people.

The exposition is to be located on a sixty-acre water front site at Long Beach and preparation of the grounds is already under way. Actual construction of ten immense exhibit palaces is expected to be launched in April.

Governmental recognition of the exposition has been accorded thru

DID YOU BRING IN THE SHIP?

In the office of the Shipping Board in Washington, D. C., there is a sign on the wall that reads: "Never mind the storms you encountered at sea. Did you bring in the ship?" In other words, the Department did not want to listen to excuses or explantions. They wanted Results!

The person who doesn't save always has a flood of excuses to offer why he has not done as well as his successful friends, but that doesn't get him anywhere. To succeed you must "bring in the ship," and starting and maintaining a savings account at this bank is a good way to bring in the ship.

SNOWSHOES CAUSE FALL NEAR GOODYEARS BAR

DOWNIEVILLE, April 7, (Special to The Nugget)—Wm. Kane, a miner employed at the Eleanor Hydraulic Mine at Eureka, near this place, suffered a broken arm Wednesday in a fall on the Eureka trail. Kane and several other miners were on their way to Downieviile, and had been forced to resort to makeshift snowshoes to negotiate the heavy new snow-fall. At the head of Goodyears creek Kane's snowshoes became entangled in a drift, and in his efforts to exticate them, a portion of the snow-covered trail gave way, plunging Kane over a small cliff.

He dropped about fifteen feet, striking on his arm, and fracturing both bones. The injured man proceeded ten miles to Downieville, where first aid was given him by J. J. Quinn, superintendent of the county hospital. Next morning Kane went to Nevada City for medical attention.

MINING MEN VISIT IN THE FRENCH CORRAL SECTION

FRENCH CORRAL, April 7, (Special to the Nugget)—"Ah, how good it feels,—the hand of an old friend!" Those lines seem uppermost in our thoughts, for during the past week has been one of "going back times. Yes, be the occasion one of joy or of sorrow, the hand grasp of an old friend always sends a loving thrill to the heart. Verily, the past week we have lived them several across the years" on several occasions.

We will begin our items with a sad occasion for yesterday French Corral people, attended the funeral of an old friend and worthy neighbor, John O. Williams of Grass Valley. Mr. Williams came to French Corral when a young man and took up mining which was then the principal industry. Here he met and was married to Miss Sosina Williams. Several of their children were born here as the family resided here for many years. From here they moved to Colorado, and after a few years returned to Nevada county tnd took up residence in Grass Valley, where they have made their home ever since. While Mr. Williams had been in poor health since January, his sudden death was a great shock to his family and many friends. Alas, how very uncertain is life! One of Mr. Williams' daughters had planned a bridge party for Thursday afternoon but instead she attended the funeral of her father! The large concourse of people, the many and beautiful floral pieces, mute emblems of love, which the room was lined, and the casket almost hidden. All attested to the high character and the love and respect in which Mr. Williams was beheld, We all join in sympathy with the bereaved family.

Will Culver of San Francisco arrived Saturday evening for an extended visit with his parents. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Culver of French Corral.

Mr. B. Wilcoxson of Drum Power House paid a short visit to his mother Sunday.

The regular meeting of the S. J. R. W. U. Association was not called to order Sunday, as there were but five members present. The stormy weather was the cause of non-attendance. A special meeting will be called for April 15th.

Mrs. Chas. Buhl and Walter came from Brown's Valley Sunday.

People from San Francisco paid French Corral a visit Sunday. The writer did not learn the names of the party.

Daniel Mahoney of Spokane, Wash., and Geo. T. Coffey of Oakland, and George Hothersall of Nevada City gave French Corral friends a surprise visit Wednesday. Mr. Mahoney was born and raised in French Corral and also taught school here. He had not been here for nearly forty years. He has been visiting California for the past months, and on invitation of Mr. Coffey, another French Corralite, he paid a visit to Nevada county. They were accompanied by Mr. Hothersall, who was our school teacher for three years way back in the '80ties. Well, Mr. Mahoney, and Mr. Hothersall were classmates at the San Jose State Normal and graduated at the same time. Mr. Coffey took great delight in introducing Mr. Mahoney as "Mr. Brown from Utah," and in this way played several jokes on his old acquaintances. We all enjoyed the visit, but it was all too brief, as they went back Thursday. Altho the "old home ain't what it used to be" and many of the old friends are gone, Mr. Mahoney or I'll say Dan enjoyed being here and promises never to be away longer than a year again.

Bill McCullough was a visitor here this week.

Misses Frances and Louise Moulton made a trip to Bangor to visit their cousin, Mrs. H. D. Osgood, who teaches at that place. They returned Thursday evening.

W. E. M[illegible] and Mrs. K. Sullivan were in Grass Valley Thursday to attend the funeral of Mr. John O. Williams.

Brs. A. Browning and sons, Harry and Davis, also Joe Swazey made a trip to Nevada City Thursday.

Bennie Wilcoxsson, who is a pupil at the Grass Valley high school, is visiting his grandmother, Mrs. J. W. Culver of this place.

We hear that the late hail storms and freeze hurt the fruit in Pleasant Valley.

Mr. De Prati of this place was awakened and frightened Wednesday night by strange cries which she believed to be of a panther. Fearing for the safety of one of her neighbors she got her lantern and called her faithful dog and at the hour of two a. m. struck out alone to give the alarm. Mrs. De Prati is a good soul with a great heart and always has her friends' interest in mind. We hope the panther gave French Corral the gobye for we have troubles enough without being haunted by such a dangerous beast.

We must not close without trying to make amends for a regrettable omission of last week. We wish to say that all our people share the grief of the family of W. P. Miller in the death of their son, Monroe, (Mike) Miller. One of our own French Corral boys and always a favorite from his childhood. He grew to noble manhood, one of the self-made men of which our Ridge can boast of many. We were proud of him and regret his early demise. All his family have our deepest sympathy.
